

stiffening destroys, not improves, identifiability of the transients badly identified directions are also behaviourally cheap co-contraction does buy safety

