

a reduced-order learner is biased, and stiffening divides the bias by ρ three lags in a row feel like one lag equal to their sum

